DreamNovation 2016 Summer Camp

Practice is the sole criterion for testing truth

Application Deadline – March 7th, 2016

DreamNovation is a federally registered non-profit organization in Canada. Established in 2013, we have held 2 successful summer camps in rural China, inspiring over 500 elementary students and working with over 40 local teachers. Presently, DreamNovation is looking for 1 Site Embedded Facilitator, 6 Camp Coordinators, and up to 31 Camp Counselors including 6 Junior Camp Counselors to join the 2016 Summer Camp. Answering our calling, together we embark on a journey searching for our passion and explore the possibility of a sustainable global initiative.

Key words: classroom and community engagement, equity, sustainability, volunteering, team work, leadership

“Volunteering is a vocation, join us to find your passion.”

Why DreamNovation?

- Building a volunteering environment that is equitable and advocates for social justice
- Creating projects that bring children, youth, local community members, donors, policymakers and volunteers together to foster a close-knit community from within
- Exploring problems and practical solutions together with a dynamic team of volunteers, local educators, youth, and policymakers.
- Working together towards a sustainable approach to local and international volunteering

The Program

- Collaborating with education professionals to develop summer camp curricula
- Designing a 15-day summer camp to inspire over 150 “left-behind” children
- Having volunteers work closely with local educators and children to achieve a mutual learning experience

- Learning to understand equity, social justice and sustainability through online, pre-departure and on-site trainings
- Further developing relevant concepts through personal and group reflections
- Working together with local educators to implement camp activities

Volunteering with DreamNovation means

- Being a part of one of the most rigorous and well-designed online and on-site trainings prior to the camp
- Embedding and immersing within the local community to understand issues relating to rural governance and rural education in China
- Learning about perseverance, respect and trust among locals and team members
- Taking control of your own school's summer camp design and your volunteering experience

Summer Camp Overview

DreamNovation's Summer Camp Program consists of an online training portion (6 times spanning across April 6th to May 30th), 1 week of training in Guangzhou, 3 days of training at your local school, 15 days of program implementation, and 3 days in Guangzhou to reflect and conclude.
